Welcome to Faculty180

Faculty180 is a faculty and activity reporting tool used for workload reporting, accreditation reporting, annual evaluation, promotion and tenure, CV and biosketch generation, and more. It is the replacement to Digital Measures (DM), the contract for which ended in May 2016. Based on feedback received about DM over the years, the move to Faculty180 was motivated by the desire for a system that was easier to use, more flexible, and more useful.

If you had an account in DM or started your employment last year, you have an account in Faculty180. Visit https://ir.boisestate.edu/faculty180/ for the log-in link and other resources, such as upcoming training sessions.

If you do not have an account, you may need to contact us. Try logging in, and if you can’t access the system, get in touch at faculty180@boisestate.edu.

User Interface

When you log into Faculty180, you’ll be taken to your dashboard. The dashboard will contain actions items in a To Do list for processes such as annual evaluation. It also contains a search faculty function to find other faculty with similar interests and an announcement section.

At the top of the screen, you will see the following tiles:

- Quicklinks – you can save links to specific screens in the system here and access them later
- A tile with your name in it
  - Knowledge Base, which has information about how the system works generally
  - Institution FAQs, which answers questions about Boise State’s implementation of Faculty180 specifically
  - Campus Support – will always remind you of the campus support email
  - Sign Out – to exit the system

On the left hand side of the screen, you can jump from the dashboard to other sections of the system in the Faculty tab.

- Dashboard – to jump back to the dashboard view
- Profile – to enter information such as degrees and work experience
- Activities – to enter information on your teaching, research, and service
- Evaluations – for annual evaluations (to be developed this Fall)
- Forms & Reports – to fill out forms that are requested by your department, college, or university
- Vitas & Biosketches – to create and run vitas and biosketches
- Access Settings – allows you to delegate access to your account beyond those already allowed by the Faculty 180 administrator (not recommended without consultation).

Your Data

If you had data in a DM account, all of your data has been moved into Faculty180.

11/30/17
In December, you will be asked to participate in a review of your data for the calendar year in preparation for annual evaluations. You will receive an email from the system when this is ready.

Note that we upload course information (beginning and end of term) and Office of Sponsored Projects Grant information (every 1-2 months) on your behalf.

Evaluation Workflow

Following completion of the formal Data Review process, the formal, three-step Annual Evaluation process will begin in early January and is illustrated below.

DM Data Migration (Summer 2016)

Please note that during the transition from DM, we consolidated several screens from DM in an effort to make data entry easier. For example, all scholarly and creative contributions are now organized into one section. As a result of that, and the fact that Faculty180 requires start dates for all information entered, there are a few points to keep in mind as you look through your data. (Note that we tried to update as many of these records as possible given the information available to us.)

- If you didn’t put in a Start Date for a record in DM, we put in 1966 for the year in Faculty180.
- If you didn’t put in an End Date for a record in DM, the record might say “Ongoing” for the End Date.
- The Profile screen, ‘Work Experience – Non-Academic’ may have academic ranks in it if they were previously entered into the wrong screen in DM. They should be in the ‘Academic Ranks’ screen in the Profile area.
• Records on the ‘Research & Creative Activities in Development’ screen in DM were reclassified as “Other Works” and given status of “In Progress”.

To make reviewing your data easier, we suggest you run the ‘Comprehensive Vita—Boise State’ in the Vitas & Biosketches section. Click the ‘or all’ option in the Details box to see all of your data laid out in a vita view. Scroll through your data, and if you see something that needs to be corrected, click on the relevant section heading to visit the input area where you can make edits.

DM to Faculty180 Crosswalk

To assist you in the transition from DM to Faculty180, we’ve created a crosswalk between the screens that were in DM and the related screens in Faculty180. You can access that and other resources at the Faculty180 support website (https://ir.boisestate.edu/faculty180/resources).
